WEEKLY INTERVIEW

Economy may take off like '02 in near future

Investor should not be surprised if the economy starts picking up in the next few months. The government has a lot of resources that can be used to stimulate growth. It is not just the government that is responsible for the economy, but the private sector as well. The government should focus on creating a favorable environment for investment and innovation. It should also focus on improving the infrastructure and the quality of education and healthcare. The private sector should focus on innovation and productivity. The government should also focus on reducing the burden of taxes and improving the regulatory framework. The economy is likely to pick up in the next few months, but it is important to stay focused on the long-term goals of growth and innovation.
